NEW JERSEY AFFAIRS.

The Great Demonstration at Rahway—Speech by Commodore Stockton.—There was held at Rahway, on Wednesday evening last, one of the largest political demonstrations ever held in East Jersey, at which time speeches were delivered by Hon. F. Palmdale and Senator Beardsley, of New York, David Paul Brown, Esq., Mr. Rapkin, and Commodore Stockton.

We annex the remarks of the latter, as given in the New York Express:

COMMODORE STOCKTON'S SPEECH.

Commodore Stockton then took the platform amid enthusiastic cheering—(Cries of give him room, clear the quarter deck, &c.) Men of the American party, said he, for twenty years and more I have watched over the preservation and glory of your principles. (Cheering.) It is not strange, then, that I love your principles. Friends of the laboring man of the North and the South—friends bound together by the same hopes, let this Union be broken into fragments and one scene of woe will fill this country. The union of these States—upon it depends the glory of our country and its preservation; but, fellow citizens, Americans, I don't come here to-night for proclamation. I will not multiply words without wisdom. We have in New Jersey men whose living depends upon their party. We have got an army of office seekers to oppose. However, I am happy to think we have few disunionists among us. The people of New Jersey cherish no sentiments that patriotism cannot honor. I further say that New Jersey will give her vote for Fillmore. (Immense cheering.)

All we have got to do is to hoist our flag and the people will follow. All parties agree that there is great danger to the country, but they differ as to the means of remedying the evils. It is supposed by many that the institutions of our country are to pass through a severe ordeal. For my own part, I am filled with anxiety for the future. The question of slavery has unnecessarily been agitated anew by the repeal of the compromise. The national honor has been tainted, and we are threatened with demoralization of principle. We are thrown back to the fearful agitation of 1820. What was the inducement, our fathers had to pass the Missouri Compromise. The confining of slavery within thirteen States. Fearful passions were excited. The wisest, most patriotic, Calhoun, Webster, lay a host of others, determined that the agitation must be subdued then and forever. At their mature deliberation, those sages concluded that 36 30 should forever be the line, and this compromise was made, and signed, and ratified by the people.

Thirty years passed and we had peace; but demagogues arose, and through political ambition violated that peace, and threw us back to that agitation. And what do they say? that it was a mere act of Congress? It was no act of Congress—it was an interpretation of the Constitution made for expediency and for the best purpose.

I ask the gentlemen Democrats, what remedy do they propose in the matter of slaves? what do the Buchan men advise? The country is not to be settled by electing either Buchanan or Fremont. There is no two sides to this question. They have repealed the Missouri Compromise, and they propose no substitute. This constitutional question remains the same something must be done to allay the excitement. You must satisfy the North, you must satisfy the South, and you want a good man to do it, and that man is Millard Fillmore. (Cheers.) The South has defied the North to the contest and the North has accepted the issue. In this condition of affairs the American party is the only one from which a national candidate can be presented to the people. Our candidates stand upon a national and conservative platform, and they will vindicate their claim to be supported by a true and independent Democracy.

A Democrat, heretofore a friend of improvement, I cannot but say it with emotion, that I decidedly differ with the Democrats in this matter of Compromise. The people of New Jersey are a thinking people, and when you come to a question of right New Jersey will be true.—This same language I used in 1840, upon nearly the same ground where I am at present standing. I feel that I am right in the course I have taken. Nine-tenths of the people think as I do, but they are servile, and will not be free and express a free opinion. The poor slave cannot help his condition. The freeman says, "I know it is wrong, but the party has done it." This is not true freedom, but debasing slavery. Men in office should not influence us, but a love of country should. (Cheers.) Let the right spirit animate us, and you will not find a Fremont man or Democrat in 1857. I have no sympathy with those who say the country is not in jeopardy, and if it is not saved by the Compromise, the country is gone. I do not take a step but what I mean to stand upon.

I defend sentiments I believe to be right, "Only be right," as Crockett said, "and then go ahead." Can the people of New Jersey trust such a man as the head of the present administration?

That repeal of the Missouri Compromise deceived the people of 1850. When I think of this master I sometimes rub my eyes and imagine it a dream, that some men could act in such a manner. The Missouri Compromise was intended to secure peace. A fratricidal war has already ensued from its repeal, and the blood of brothers is smoking from the ground. There is one thing plain, and that is, that the whole North considered the Missouri Compromise as a compact of honor. The people of New Jersey, by voting against Fremont and Buchanan, will give a proper expression of opinion on the subject of the Compromise. It remains alone for the American party to save the country.

I have felt an utter abhorrence for such principles as Fremont advocates. Mr. Fillmore is the man for the crisis; fulsome eulogism is disgusting to me, but I point to Mr. Fillmore's acts as a guarantee for what he will do hereafter. He has been President, and is the only man who has retired from office with credit in a number of years, and left the country in a good condition. (Cheers.) We have got Mr. Pierce—go and ask his best friend what he thinks of him. It is too much to allow such men to rule the destinies of a country. Take another man—J. C. Fremont. If he is an honorable man he must be an abolitionist. Buchanan said he would stand by the Compromise, and has renounced it; he says he is Buchanan no longer, but belongs to his party. Therefore, when we come to speak of Mr. Fillmore we speak of a man who has always acted consistently, and left the office with as much reputation as he took into it.

The Roman Catholics are controlled by their astute Priests, the same system is in vogue here that operated in Europe for hundreds of years. The colonies were settled by men the Jesuits persecuted; it is strange that the descendants should think as their forefathers did, and oppose the Church of Rome! (Cheers.) Should we not adopt some salutary measures to restrain the Jesuits'—enemies of religious toleration and civil liberty. The only way we can do it is at the ballot-box, in preferring a Protestant to a Roman Catholic (Great cheers.) Americans, I have not many years to live in this wicked world, and what I say, I say in sincerity. I owe a debt of gratitude to our forefathers, and I will love and greatly esteem that man who comes to the poll and fearlessly says, I am a Protestant. (Profound cheers.)

After some further remarks, Commodore Stockton brought this eloquent speech—of which the above is but the merest outline—to a close, and the meeting adjourned with tremendous cheering for Fillmore and D. W. Lyon.

Mr. Garfield's Calculations.

It was amusing to hear Mr. Garfield tickle the ears of some of his democratic hearers on Friday night in his calculations of Buchanan's strength. He seemed to be perfectly oblivious of the change of fortune which has lately befallen his party in the North, but very innocently assumed as the basis of his calculations, the relative position of parties a year and longer ago.

The following from the New York Herald of few days ago may awaken some of his credulous hearers from their delusion.

The movement of the Democrats in favor of Fremont is becoming an infection, and is spreading all over the country.—In McKean county, Pennsylvania, a voluntary movement has been made by the members of the Democratic party, resulting in a thorough Fremont organization in every township of the county. The Democrats of Cleveland, Ohio, have also made a similar movement. They have published a call for the organization of a Democratic Fremont Club, giving in detail the reasons why they cannot support the Buchanan ticket. The Cleveland herald says that the signatures were confined to those who, up to the present campaign, have been identified with the Democratic party, and every man who signed cast his vote for Wm. Medill, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio. Had the call been for those who voted for President Pierce, the list might have embraced five hundred. The meeting to organize a club, is to take place on the 16th inst., at the Court House, and will be addressed by the Hon. W. Collina, lately a Democratic member of Congress. In Warren county, Pennsylvania, all the disaffected Democrats have also gone over to Fremont, headed by the Hon. C. B. Curtis a Democratic member of the last Congress.

This, we are complacently told, is the only party upon which the South can rely upon to stand up for her rights for South! God save her from such friends. Mt. Sterling Whig.

PURITY.—Young ladies should guard themselves against undue familiarity, however innocent. Purity, that blushes unconsciously, like the summer rose, is the guardian angel of maiden life.

Gov. Trimble, of Ohio, having been represented as favoring Buchanan's election, the veteran pronounces it a falsehood, and says he is for Fillmore "first, last and all the time."

O, WHO CAN SAVE OUR COUNTRY!

BY FINLY JOHNSON.

O, who can save our country
From rain and disgrace;
And stay the threatening danger
That stares us in the face—
Who, who can stem the torrent—
Impede the mighty flow
Of "us"—which are bringing
A train of endless woe!

O, who can keep unshamed
What our forefathers won
And protect the sacred rights
Of the land of Washington?

Can he be "ten cent Jimmy"
He whom they style "old Buck"
Whose sire was "Federalist"
Whose son they call "bad luck,"
Is he the honest statesman
In whom we can confide?
With whom we could be safe?
Above the hollows ride;

Or when around, about us;
Dismus roads do roar;
Is not our country's savior
The good and wise Fillmore?

O, yes 'tis Millard Fillmore
The good, the tried, the true,
Who can save us from the breakers
And steer us safely through;
And the people are determined
That they will never be stuck
By the broken, twisted horns
Of Pennsylvania "Buck";

And the "Locos and Sagights"
May settle in content;

For Fillmore the patriot
Shall be our President.

[From the Louisville Journal.]

STARTING AT EIGHT O'CLOCK, FREMONT OFFERED THE NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENCY BY THE DEMOCRACY—THE OFFER REJECTED.

The Washington Union, in an elaborate review of Blair's recent letter to Cave Johnson, says that Fremont is the special nominee of Blair, selected by him because he was unknown and incompetent.

The subjoined statement of the Hon. Geo. C. Bates, in a late public speech at Kalamazoo, Michigan, will show that, if the Union is correct, Blair got only a second-hand nominee after all. Mr. Bates was formerly Attorney General of Michigan, and is now a resident of California. He is known to be a gentleman of high and unimpeachable character.

We invite particular attention to his statement. It reveals new depths of perfidy in the Southern Democracy leaders:

When he [Mr. Bates] was expected to sail for California in August, 1855, he was persuaded by Mr. Palmer, of the firm of Palmer, Cook & Co., bankers of San Francisco, to remain until October, when he and Col. Fremont would accompany him thither. Mr. Bates postponed his departure as desired. But when the time for departure arrived Col. Fremont, although his trunks were packed, did not go, but ordered his baggage to the Metropolitan Hotel instead. This was in consequence of the following facts: Gov. Floyd, of Virginia, had just arrived in New York for the special purpose of having an interview with Col. Fremont, and the result of that was an offer made to Col. Fremont by Floyd, in behalf of the Democratic party, he having advised with its leading men North and South, of the nomination for the Presidency. He said that party wanted a new man—a man of integrity and who won distinction outside of politics.

Col. Fremont, after listening patiently, and even submitting to two separate interviews and knowing the platform he was expected to stand upon, replied that while deeply sensible of the high situation of the proposition made him, and daunted by the premise extended yet, with his opinion of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise it would be impossible for him to entertain the proposition. He considered that repeat an infamous breach of plighted faith, and should never desist denouncing the act and its authors. Col. Fremont planted himself impregnably on this position. Palmer being ignorant of these facts, communicated them forthwith to Hon. N. P. Banks and Hon. Henry Wilson, of Massachusetts, and they came and saw Col. Fremont, and state in brief the result of that interview he consented to lead the hosts of freedom in this campaign if the people should call him to that position. All this happened in September, 1855, as we correctly recall Mr. Bates's statement. He gives time, names, and places and vouchers for the entire accuracy of the above statement, and, although it did not come to him with the injunction of secrecy, he stated he would not have revealed it had the facts not already been partly disclosed in last Saturday's N. Y. Herald. Any statement made by Mr. Bates commands implicit reliance in this community, where he has been known for years, and is universally respected.

It was amusing to hear Mr. Garfield tickle the ears of some of his democratic hearers on Friday night in his calculations of Buchanan's strength. He seemed to be perfectly oblivious of the change of fortune which has lately befallen his party in the North, but very innocently assumed as the basis of his calculations, the relative position of parties a year and longer ago.

Gov. Trimble, of Ohio, having been represented as favoring Buchanan's election, the veteran pronounces it a falsehood, and says he is for Fillmore "first, last and all the time."

No CHANCE.—Buchanan has no earthly chance of being elected. His friends are deserting him in every section. The news-papers devoted to his support are dying out, or going over to Fremont. Among others, the "Sen. in the" Buchanan organ at Washington City, has died. He is a goner, and the man of intelligence who professes to believe Buchanan can be elected, must be wilfully blind to passing events, or profess that which he knows to be otherwise.

ANOTHER BET.—The one thousand dollars check, from W. N. Halderman, of the Louisville Courier, which has been in the hands of Mr. James R. Barrick for several days, to bet that Kentucky will go for Buchanan, about which certain boastful Sag-Nicht loafers have been making so much noise, will be taken, when the check is cashed (?) Our friend W. W. Deating has, we are creditably informed, already advanced the $1,000. He won't "take water." It is not believed that the checks will be cash; at any rate our Democratic pragadoces are not willing to endorse them.

The game of brag is the last struggle of infatuated Sag-Nichtism in this country. So mote it be.—Glasgow (Ky.) Journal.

CALIFORNIA FOR FILMORE.

AN AMERICAN MEMBER of the United States Senate received, by the last steamer from California, a letter from his brother in that State, who is a Democrat of great political sagacity, and who writes as follows:

"I am very sorry to state that, from present appearances, the American party will carry the State this fall by an overwhelming majority."

AMERICAN PLATEAU.

At a meeting of the chief Council of the American Party for the District of Columbia, composed of delegates from the subordinate councils of said district, the following Platforms of principles and opinions, was recommended to the National and State councils of the American party for adoption.

1st. An humble acknowledgement to the Supreme Being w/o rules the universe, for his protecting care vouch'd to our fathers in their successful Revolutionary struggle, and hitherto manifested to us, their descendants, in the preservation of the liberties, the independence, and the union of these States.

2d. The perpetuation of the Federal Union as the palladium of our civil and religious liberties, and the only sure bulwark of American Independence.

3d. AMERICANS MUST RULE AMERICA, and to this end, native born citizens should be elected for all States, Federal and municipal offices, of government, employment, in preference to naturalized citizens, nevertheless;

4th. Persons born of American parents residing temporarily abroad, should be entitled to all the rights of native born citizens; but

5th. No person should be selected for political station (whether of native or foreign birth,) who recognizes any allegiance or obligation of any description to any foreign prince, potentate, or power, or who refuses to recognize the Federal or State constitutions [each within its sphere] as paramount to all other laws, as rules of political action.

6th. The unqualified recognition and maintenance of the reserved rights of the several States, and the cultivation of harmony and fraternal good will, between the citizens of the several States, and to this end, non-interference by each State with the affairs of any other State.

The supply pipe was broken, and before the men in the car could be extricated, they were literally scalded to death. The list of the dead are as follows:—J. H. Bissell, Madison, Lake county, O.; H. Blair, Warrensville Cuyahoga Co., O.; W. A. Wilson, Benton Co., Ky.; Wm. Smith, Cleveland O.; Edward Taylor, Palatine, Pickaway Co., O.; Robert Boaz, Carlisle Ky.

Album Quilt.

Among the many and fine quilts shown, was one exhibited by Miss Birch, of Harrison county, which deserves particular notice. It was very tastefully laid off. In the fullness of the three horns of plenty, were the autographs of Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, and Millard Fillmore, also, were the names of John J. Crittenden, C. S. Morehead, Gov. of Ky., and J. R. Underwood.

Comprising another triangle were the names of Lewis Cass, J. A. Quitman and Howell Cobb; and another Felix Zollicoffer of Tennessee, Jno. M. Clayton of Delaware, and Ed Everett of Mass. The sentiments were, "The Women of America," I wish them to give their prompt and steady influence for the preservation of civil and religious liberty.

A Voice From Nicholas!
TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE IN COUNCIL!!
TREMENDOUS FILMORE MEETING!!

Last Thursday was a glorious day for the Fillmore men of Kentucky, and especially for the Americans of Nicholas county. Early in the morning the prospect for a large meeting, was somewhat gloomy, as the signs above were ominous of rain, but before nine o'clock, the sky was clear, and the atmosphere cool and bracing. We left home Wednesday evening, and went as far as Headquarters, from which we had understood, a large delegation would leave the next morning, for the Barbecue. On our arrival at Headquarters, we found the Americans making extensive preparations—singing Fillmore songs—and all seemed enthusiastic. We suppose there were not less than seven or eight hundred persons that composed the delegation, which left Headquarters, preceded by a band of music. Nothing of importance occurred on the road to Carlisle, with the exception, that our crowd was augmented at every step, and by the time we reached the Grounds, where the Barbecue was held, the crowd was so dense, that no conception of numbers could be formed. On our arrival at Carlisle, a delegation of 31 young ladies, dressed in white, and mounted on as many Gray Horses, led by a band of music, joined in the line of march, for the Barbecue.—This was by far the most beautiful sight we had ever seen. The enthusiasm which prevailed is passed description.—It was a continual shout and hurrah for Fillmore, Donelson, and the Union. At the large stand on the ground where the meeting was held, these 31 young ladies were received. At this point the speaking commenced, on the presentation of a Fillmore American Banner, to Col. Jones of Newport, who responded, in one of the happiest and enthusiastic speeches, we ever heard. (It was found necessary to make two more stands, as the crowd was so large, that it was utterly impossible for persons to get near enough to the stand to hear what was said.) When Col. Jones had finished, Gov. Letcher was introduced, and made a "telling speech;" he tore the mask from Democracy, and exposed its rottenness in a masterly manner. While the Gov. was raking the Sags on one side, Gen. Houston, of Clark Co., was combing those men who profess to be Old Line Whigs, and vote for Buchanan. The General is one of the most eloquent and witty speakers. He gave general satisfaction to the Americans, and a hand clapping to the Sags.

I. T. MARTIN.—The firm of Frazer, Day, & Co., of this place, have purchased ten thousand Bushels of White Wheat; of next years growth.

THE FIRST DAYS FAIR.—The anticipations of the friends of the Harrison Co., Agricultural Fair have been more than realized. We think there must have been between 6 or 8000 persons present.

ed the black standard of discord, and that class of persons whose opinions are offensive to the God of nature and refined white men, have increased in ten fold ratio, threatening to dissolve a fabric cemented by the best and purest blood that ever flowed in the veins of living morals. However, I did not intend to give a dissertation on the speeches made, and must hurry on, for my article will be too lengthy. After the crowd had eaten their dinner, they were addressed by John W. Stevenson, who is the poorest speaker, certainly, that ever mounted a stand for that purpose; with the patience of Job, one might listen to him until he got through. Even his own party were disgusted at the speech which was composed of hackneyed phrases and illogical conclusions. His attempts at wit would have awokened Doesticks from his slumbers, but by the time he finished the crowd grew very slim. There was then a tremendous yell, such as Wolf never sent through the wilderness for Capt Sims, he was on the ground, and wanted to speak, but he too plainly saw that there was but little interest manifested, and before fifteen minutes, he would be left alone without an auditor, and hence, did not appear. A scream then went up for Col. Martin. His giant was soon seen on the stand, he shook his beef-eaten jaws, gnashed his teeth, and then bellowed like a lion.—He had, he said, but one proposition to prove, and that was, he was truly a patriot. He wanted one hour to substantiate the fact. I concluded that it mattered not, whether he was, or not provided, he didn't exert his physical power against the Union. So I left, never expecting to see "Democ" until that bright morning when Gabriel's trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall arise. How will she stand at the bar of justice with the many sins she has committed. I can't tell.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.

STILL TRIUMPHANT!
CONTRAST the tints brought out in the hair by Cristadoro's matches reviving Hair Dye, and those produced by application of other dyes, will readily tell the reader that Cristadoro's is the only preparation which can be repeated, and the same tint obtained in each case, unusual in the other, and the simple reason is that Cristadoro's is the only preparation which contains the secret of the hair, and which we have hitherto kept so closely hidden. This is now the case only in one respect of its uses, but every other merchant, who has been compelled to sell his goods at a loss, to compete with Cristadoro's, is at once the victim of his own greediness, and the reason is that Cristadoro's is the only preparation which contains the secret of the hair, and which we have hitherto kept so closely hidden.
